OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

PSEi ended July at 7,550 or 0.19% lower month-on-month. It was an interesting month as investors tried to understand developments in Greece, the collapse of Chinese stocks and the nuclear deal with Iran. Finally a major PPP was completed, the Muntinlupa-Cavite Expressway (MCX). Two listed companies will particularly benefit from this project: Ayala Land and Vista Land. Both companies have projects and sizable landbank close to MCX. 2nd quarter results released so far have been within expectation. Banks reported weak margins but loan growth was healthy at around mid-teens. The biggest corporate news during the month was the land slide that occurred in the Panian mine site operated by Semirara Mining & Power Corp. Nine workers perished, a number were injured and some equipment were damaged. Coal mining is currently suspended pending the result of a government investigation.

Foreign funds have been net sellers since April. But despite of this development, market correction has been subdued due to the growing heft of domestic investors. We remain cautious as earnings to date have been generally uninspiring and valuations high.
