OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

PSEi ended September at 6,894 or 2.9% lower month-on-month. Foreign investors remained net sellers resulting to a ytd net foreign outflow of US$873mn. The recent yuan devaluation and the impending Fed rate hike have increased uncertainty and made investors very cautious. Despite the current weakness, the PSEi has fared relatively well compared to its ASEAN peers. Part of the outperformance can be attributed to healthy domestic fundamentals.

Other macro indicators remain favorable. Personal remittances from Overseas Filipinos amounted to USD2.3 billion in July 2015, higher by 0.5% compared to the same period a year ago. For the 1st seven months, personal remittances have reached USD15.7 billion, 4.6% higher yoy.

Despite a slowdown in recent months, growth is expected to accelerate led by higher government spending and investments.

Headline inflation slowed further in August to 0.6% compared to 0.8% in July on lower oil and electricity prices and ample food supply.

The market still faces strong headwinds such as a strong US dollar and the imminent hike in U.S. interest rates which could create continued volatility and uncertainty in the near term.
