OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The Philippine Stock Index ended at 7,779.07, falling 200.59 points or -2.5% lower month-on-month. Investor sentiment was mixed as expectations on BSP's moves were fully priced in. The BSP has cut the overnight rates by 25 bps and the reserve requirements by 100bps. The BSP Governor is still considering more RRR cuts before the year ends. Monetary easing was also seen in the international front with Federal Reserve cutting its overnight rate by 25bps amid the division of perception on the strength of their economy.

The crackdown on Philippine Offshore Gaming Operators (POGO) by the government, particularly Megaworld, still continue to hound the market. It is down by -13.45% which is secondary to Alliance Global Inc. decline by -14.65%.
